

Conditions of Use

About me:

I am a honest seller and take my good reputation and customer service very serious. That means, if I ever miss something, it is an honest mistake and I will do my very best to do it right for you. I take great pride in the items that I sell. Each item is thoroughly checked and guaranteed to be described as detailed as possible in its description. Buy with confidence. All items are guaranteed authentic & antique, unless clearly otherwise stated, and, what is more, there is NO damage, NO repair and NO alterations, unless specifically mentioned in my items description.

But please bear in mind:

All of my treasures have been previously enjoyed since a very long time ago. I naturally will record in each items description every slight imperfection caused by age and usage before, which then is no reason for the buyer to complain, having it in hands. Mostly it anyway adds to the character of the item in a positive sense. So, please read the payment instructions, to be found under shipping and returns, and be free to ask any question you may have prior to purchase. COMMUNICATION is key.

There only are two more important things to say:

Please make allowances for my photography, as I am an art-dealer and no professional photographer, and I welcome input fom knowledgeable dealers and collectors. Thanks in advance. Nobody is perfect.
